

SYSTEMS PLUS COLLEGE FOUNDATION

MacArthur Highway, Balibago, Angeles City, 2009, Pampanga, Philippines

Amerasian Research Network, Ltd.

210 Osborne Road, Albany, New York 12205 USA

Tel: USA +1-518-438-3538 * Philippine CP# +63-929-338-0284

www.AmerasianResearch.org or www.AmerasianInstitute.org

E:Mail: pkuts001@waldenu.edu or DrK@amerasianresearch.org

For Immediate Release: Wednesday, October 1, 2014 - (PR# 2014-08)

Keynote Address at Taipei, Taiwan, Republic of China APCBSS-2014 Conference will Focus on Amerasian Topical Theme "No Way Out: The Tragic Transnational Sexual Exploitation of the Philippines"

TAIPEI, Taiwan, ROC -- The Director of the Philippine American Research Center (PARC), Systems Plus College Foundation, and Founder/Chief Academic Officer of the New York, USA-based American Research Network, Ltd. in Albany, New York, Dr. P.C. "Pete" Kutschera, Ph.D., is scheduled as keynote speaker and billed to present the leadoff discussion at the 2nd Asia Pacific Conference on Business and Social Sciences (APCBSS - 2014) 21-23 November in Taipei, Taiwan in the Republic of China. [See Conference Website at: <http://www.apcbss.org/>] The three-day conference drawing business and commercial sector and social science researchers and academicians, is organized by the Taipei-based Asia-Pacific Education and Research Association (APERA) and the Higher Education Forum (HEF) - major organizers, managers and sponsors of innovative academic research conferences throughout East/Southeast Asia and the Western Pacific Basin. The Taipei-based APCBSS-2014 is the 10th international research conference or symposia that Dr. Kutschera and his research associates have presented evidence-based research papers on various socioeconomic and psychosocial issues facing military Filipino and Pan American since February, 2012. Mixed heritage Americans are the biracial blood progeny of U.S. servicemen and military contractors and native women mothers abandoned, estranged or orphaned in widespread areas of the Western Pacific Rim throughout the 20th and into the 21st Century U.S. military basing era.

"Dr. Pete Kutschera is acknowledged as one of the few contemporary academic authorities on this largely under studied military Filipino and Pan American Diaspora and human phenomena. His evidence-based research, generated from the Philippine American Research Center, Systems Plus College Foundation, Angeles, Luzon, the Philippines has been published in at least six, peer reviewed academic international journals since September, 2012. He has also presented ground breaking research papers on the subject at nine major international conferences or symposia in the last 2 1/2 years. These conferences (and) and symposia include major venues from Australia, Canada, Cambodia and the Philippines to Singapore, South Korea, Thailand and the USA," declared Chelsea Kao, HEF and APCBSS-2014 Conference Director of Public Relations. Director Kao pointed out that Dr. Kutschera had last served as chair of a HEF research forum presentation panel at the Asia-Pacific Social Sciences Conference (APSSC-2014), 8-10. January 2014 at the Renaissance Seoul Hotel, Seoul, South Korea. In September, 2013 he was also a panel discussion leader and member of the International Conference Committee for the HEF- organized International Conference on Education and Social Sciences (ICESS-2013) in the Republic of Singapore. At both HEF conferences Kutschera and several research co-collaborators also presented original, evidence-based American study papers.

According to the APCBSS-2014 Taipei, Taiwan Conference website, Dr. Kutschera's address entitled, "No Way Out: The Tragic Transnational Sexual Exploitation of the Philippines" and a similarly named companion paper to be presented at the meeting, "addresses a serious literature gap on a topic of manifestly broad demographic interest in East/Southeast Asia – the fate of mixed-heritage military Filipino "Americans. These biracial progeny, abandoned by U.S. soldiers and corporate defense contractors, date to U.S. colonization of the Philippines in 1898. Often stigmatized and impoverished, today they number 250,000+ if all ages and if 2nd generation are included. Such robust numbers alone qualify them for Diaspora status. I developed the term 'Pan American' to describe other enclaves of Americans including Japan, Okinawa, South Korea and the Mariana Islands (Guam) where U.S. permanent bases still remain and unsupported or neglected infants continue to be born. This discussion and an allied paper presented at this conference examine this human phenomena at the next level. Contemporarily, we see a continuum and pattern vies-a-vies the influx of additional biracial, poverty-stricken Diasporas in the Philippines. These are sired by Japanese, South Korean, and more recently Hong Kong and mainland Chinese tourists, businessmen and temporary visitors. Left behind are new clusters of 'Japino,' 'Kopi no' and 'Chipino' progeny reflecting the portrait of a destitute and exploited nation-state, and the steady furtherance of transnational victimization at the relentless hands of its own neighbors and allies."

PR # 2014-08